THE HOUSE PASSED THE POOLING BILL

THEREBY THE RAILROADS SCORE A POINT,

The Measure Went Through By a Vote of 164 to 110—House Committee Listen to a New Banking Plan—Populist Measures In the Senate Criticized By Mr. Morrill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—During the closing hours of the afternoon session yesterday around each of the doors leading to the house of representatives was an interested group of railroad men who had gathered to witness the fate of the bill to permit railroad corporations to combine and divide their earnings. The bill to permit pooling was passed without dotting an "i" or crossing a "t" by the decisive vote of 164 to 110. Analysis of the vote: Yeas—Democrats, 94; republicans, 70; total, 164. Nays—Democrats, 73; republicans, 29; populists, 8; total, 110.

The debate on the bill itself was brief. Mr. Cannon of Illinois made a rattling speech against the bill, but Representatives Springer, Harter, Sibley, and Black were given time in which to favor the bill, after which Mr. Patterson of Tennessee, who had the scheme in charge, moved the previous question in spite of the protests of the western men, and it was ordered by a vote of 174 to 100. This practically settled the fate of the bill. The substitute offered by Mr. Cooper of Florida was promptly voted down, as was also the amendment by Mr. Blair of New Hampshire, providing that the railroads should acquire no vested rights as the result of recognizing pools by the interstate commerce commission.

There was a long series of roll calls, each of which was taken amid a great deal of confusion. The bill passed as the result of the support chiefly of the eastern men, both republicans and democrats, to which was added a scattering of democratic contingent in the west and south.

The interest in the pooling bill business will now be transferred to the senate. That body contains an unusually large number of men who are directly interested in railroad corporations, and under ordinary circumstances the bill would have a good chance to pass. It is understood, however, that some of the populist members and a few republicans and democrats have determined to beat it, and under the rules of the senate, where unlimited debate is permitted, this is a comparatively easy matter.

After the pooling bill was disposed of Mr. Dingley (rep., Maine) asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information on several Behring sea matters. Objection. The rest of the business of the session was unimportant. On motion of Mr. Cooper (dem., Ind.) 10,000 copies of Secretary Carlisle's report were ordered printed.

FOR BALTIMORE PLAN.

Horace White Before the Banking and Currency Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The hearing before the house banking and currency committee on the question of a reorganization of the currency laws was resumed yesterday, but did not move off very promptly. Among those present were: Horace White of the New York Evening Post, G. G. Homer of Baltimore, chairman of the committee of the National Bankers' association to formulate the socalled Baltimore plan, and A. B. Hepburn of New York, ex-competroller of the currency. These three gentlemen represent the currency ideas embodied in the Baltimore plan, and they were present for the purpose of urging the merits of that plan. It was expected that Secretary Carlisle would present his currency bill and continue his statement of yesterday, but as the secretary was late in arriving Mr. White opened the hearing. In answer to questions he stated that he had drafted a bill on the lines of the Baltimore plan and it was arranged that this should be placed before the committee. Mr. White's statement was read from manuscript and was a carefully prepared review of the banking question. At the close of Mr. White's statement he submitted his bill. Mr. Homer stated that the committee of the national bankers had not yet formulated their bill. Mr. Johnson of Ohio asked Mr. White's opinion on Secretary Carlisle's currency plan. Mr. White answered that he did not think the secretary's plan would give the elastic currency it ought to secure. It compelled banks to put up 30 cents every time they issued 75 cents.

At the conclusion of Mr. White's remarks Secretary Carlisle appeared and presented a draft of his proposed bill. In the first section all acts regulating the deposit of United States bonds to secure circulating notes of national banks are repealed. The second section provides for the issuing of circulating notes to a national bank equal to 75 per cent of the paid up and unimpaired capital, upon depositing legal tender notes with the United States treasurer equal to 30 per cent of the circulating notes applied for.

These circulating notes shall be in denominations of $10 and multiples of ten, and shall be uniform in design.

Section 3 levies a duty of ¼ per cent for each half year upon the average amount of a bank's notes in circulation.

Section 4 provides for the mode of redemption and retirement of a bank's circulation.

Section 5 creates the safety fund for the prompt redemption of circulating notes of failed national banks. Each bank shall pay to the United States treasurer in the months of January and July in each year a tax of ¼ per cent for each half year upon the average amount of its circulating notes outstanding until said fund amounts to 5 per cent of the total amount of national bank notes outstanding, and thereafter said tax shall cease. A bank retiring or reducing its circulation shall be entitled to withdraw any part of this fund. The mode of procedure in case of a bank's failure is outlined.

Section 6 allows the secretary of the treasury to invest money belonging to the safety fund in United States bonds.

Section 7 provides that July 1, 1895, national banks now having bonds on deposit may withdraw them and substitute the 30 per cent guarantee fund.

Section 8 repeals previous acts conflicting with this measure.

Section 9 provides that the secretary of the treasury may, in his discretion, redeem and retire United States legal tender notes; that no United States or treasury notes authorized by the act of July 1, 1890, of a denomination of less than $10 shall be issued.

Section 10 states that banks duly organized under the laws of any state, which transact no other than a banking business, shall be exempt from taxation under the laws of the United States under certain conditions regulating state banks.

Section 11 provides that state banks shall not issue notes similar in design to United States notes or certificates or national bank notes.

In the discussion that followed, the shipment of gold was discussed at much length. Mr. Carlisle said the loan of gold was very heavy after the passage of the Sherman law. The loss of our gold had brought on financial distrust and had threatened panic. But there had been no real danger. These panics were largely the result of sentiment and public feeling instead of well based fears.

IN THE SENATE.

Morrill of Vermont Criticises Populist Measures.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Senator Morrill was given the floor yesterday to present the report from the committee on finance, and as it was known that he was to report adversely on several financial propositions presented by Senator Peffer, there was a goodly attendance of members and the galleries were well filled. Mr. Morrill in a most bitter and sarcastic manner announced the adverse decision of the committee on the measures and criticised sharply the views, financial and otherwise, of the leaders of the populist party. At the conclusion of the speech Mr. Peffer answered the senator from Vermont briefly, and Mr. Higgins presented a resolution calling on the President and secretary of state for the correspondence on the subject of mediation on the part of the United States between China and Japan. It was laid over until to-day at the suggestion of Mr. Morgan (dem., Ala.).

Mr. Dolph (Rep., Ore.) then addressed the senate in favor of the Nicaragua canal bill. He devoted some time to the consideration of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and declared that that instrument presented no obstacle to the construction of the canal by the United States or to the control of it.

Mr. Sherman pointed out that the only provision of the Nicaraguan bill he was not entirely satisfied with was the amount to be paid to the Maritime company, which he thought was entitled only to the amount of the money expended in the enterprise thus far. He wanted the bill stripped of all doubtful provisions in this respect and to have refunded to the company all expenditures made by it. Having paid that the government could proceed to work constructing without interference by the company.

The senate then went into executive session and at 4:15 adjourned.

The Supplementary Tariff Bills.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—There is a well defined movement on the democratic side of the senate to get up the supplemental tariff bills, notwithstanding the decision of the caucus of last week to give the preference to other measures. The opponents of the bill express the opinion that it will be impossible to get the bills up, but the attempt will certainly be made.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 12.—Before considering and peace proposals from China, Japan insists upon the surrender for execution of all the Chinese officials who have offered money rewards for Japanese heads.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The instructions given by Lieut.-Gen. Sakuma to the second Japanese army governing the treatment of the enemy in the gending war are contained in an issue of the Yokohama Mail summary recently received here. Gen. Sakuma said that Japan being the "first country of the east which had adopted civilization held the responsible position to lead other hitherto uncivilized nations into the way of civilization. So whatsoever way the enemy may act Japan must tread the way of justice and while carrying reform into a barborous country the dignity of Japan must be upheld in the world." He then specified the following conditions to be observed by the army: "1. That the people of the enemy's country who do not offer resistance should be consoled as much as possible. 2. No such act is to be committed as to insult the wounded captives or those who have surrendered or to deprive such of their clothes or properties. 3. The enemy's dead shall not be beheaded, their noses cut off or their eyes taken out; in short, Japanese soldiers are warned against perpetrating acts of brutality. 4. That fire shall not be set to places without due cause. 5. The dwellings and cultivated fields of the enemy's country shall not be destroyed. 6. Females in the enemy's country shall not be violated or other indecent acts committed. 7. In the enemy's country tombs are not to be dug out or damaged. 8. Private property of the people shall not be plundered. 9. No forced sale or purchase effected. 10. Our enemy being the Chinese army, people of other nationalities should be loved and friendship shown to them and our soldiers should not be guilty of violent or rash acts. 11. Besides the above, deeds unworthy of the honor of our army shall not be perpetrated." The same paper says that Kin Kaku, leader of the Japanese party and who was vice-minister of justice in Corea, was assassinated at his house Oct. 31. The deceased was regarded by many as the most able among the now ministers.

TEXAS $700,000 BEHIND.

Only Way to Make the Deficit Good is to Increase the Taxes.

GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 12.—John D. McCall, state comptroller, says that the amount of the state's deficit at the present time will approximate $700,000. He does not believe that the state expenses can be reduced so as to meet current receipts at the present rate of taxation, and thinks that it will be necessary to increase them. He does not admit that the present administration has been an extravagant one, or that it could have been conducted on a more economical basis, but says that expenses have increased naturally. The state is now nearly a year behind in its payments, and at the present rate of taxation it is impossible to make the deficit good. The only way to place the state on a cash basis again is to increase the rate of taxation.

CORBETT LIKES NEW ORLEANS.

Says He Would Just as Soon Fight There as at Jacksonville.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Dec. 12.—"I would just as leave fight in New Orleans if my battle with Fitzsimmons can not take place in Jacksonville," was Champion James J. Corbett's reply to a question on the subject. "This is the first time I have been asked about this matter of locality," he continued: "I have naturally a kindly feeling toward New Orleans, my career being started there by my fight with Kilraid and having won the championship in that city by defeating Sullivan. The fight might have taken place there at first had the Olympic club treated me right."

A RICH MAN KILLED BY A HOUSE THIEF

WILLIAM H. PRICE SHOT BY A BURGLAR THIS MORNING.

Well Known Printing Press Manufacturer Murdered In His Own Home—Madman Kills His Family at Ottumwa, Iowa and then Commits Suicide by Cutting His Throat.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 12.—William H. Price, the wealthy printing press manufacturer was killed by a burglar early this morning at his home.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Dec. 12.—David Spragg killed his three children, his wife and himself on his farm near Ridgeway, Hamilton county, Mo., yesterday. He also tried to kill two others, but they escaped. There can be absolutely no cause assigned but insanity, but the maniac was determined and his work complete. He had been feeding the stock, no signs of dementia were noticed in his action until he came up from the feed lot. He calmly walked into the kitchen, secured a butcher knife and appeared with it at the door leading to the living room where two of the elder children, a boy and a girl, sat. The daughter, whose back was turned to the door, spoke cheerily to her father, but receiving no answer turned and found herself looking not into the same loving eyes of her parent she had always known, but into the swollen, gleaming eyes of a madman. She had no time for reflection. In an instant he sprang upon her, cut her throat, and repeated the horrible operation on the brother. He left them for dead to go to his wife, who was in the hall just outside the door. His hurry saved them, for neither had been killed. When he reached his wife she started to run, but Spragg chased her for a distance and cut her throat from ear to ear, killing her instantly. He then returned to the house, killed two children, 8 and 10 years old, a boy and a girl, and the baby of but a few months, all in the same manner.

The two children first assaulted, and whom the maniac had left in his haste to reach his wife, now leaped to their feet and, the boy grasping the second baby, a boy of 18 months, in his arms, all made their escape to a neighbor's. When Spragg saw the result of his work and that the last three had escaped him, he coolly cut his own throat and expired.

The bleeding children, who reached the house of a neighbor, told the story, and, returning armed to capture the insane man, a number of young farmers found him lying dead on the floor. About him were the lifeless bodies of three of his children. Mrs. Spragg lay dead in the yard a few paces from the house. The coroner was summoned and took charge of the remains.

It is reported that the two Spragg children, who were injured but escaped, will die.

Grip Car Accident in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Under the center of the river in the Washington street tunnel a runaway Milwaukee avenue train last night dashed into a Madison street train, the grip of the former and the Ogden avenue trailer of the latter telescoping each other. Two men were killed and more than a score injured. Fire added its terrors to the stampede which followed the wreck, but fortunately the flames were extinguished before additional injury and suffering were inflicted. The refusal of the grip to work was the cause of the accident.

Coal Operators Fear No Strike.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Among the Illinois coal operators and in the local trade there is no visible uneasiness in consequence of the predictions of a general miners' strike at an early date, which were made at the close of the meeting of the national board of arbitration at Columbus, Ohio, Monday. David Holmes of Burnley, England, chairman of the parliamentary committee of trades union congress of the United Kingdom, representing 1,250,000 wage earners, speaking on the toast, "Bimetallism and Wage Earners," urged the adoption of a silver currency. Wharton Barker, speaking on "Bimetalism and Manufactures," suggested that America admit silver from American mines to coinage upon payment of seigniorage absorbing three fourths of the difference between the London price and the coinage value, and that foreign silver be admitted for coinage at a seigniorage absorbing all the difference between the London price and coinage. "The road to American prosperity," he said, "is bimetallism and protection."

ACCUSE THE JAPS.

Report that Fearful Atrocities Were Committed at Port Arthur.

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 12.—A dispatch to the New York World says the Japanese troops entered Port Arthur Nov. 21 and massacred practically the entire population in cold blood. The defenseless and unarmed inhabitants were butchered in their houses and their bodies were unspeakably mutilated. There was an unrestrained reign of murder, which continued for three days. The whole town was plundered with appalling atrocities. All pretense that circumstances justified the atrocities are false. The civilized world will be appalled by the details. The foreign correspondents, horrified by the spectacle, left the army in a body.

The cousin's home is near Owosso, and Cunningham has telegraphed the officers there to stop the couple.

TOWN IS BEGGARED BY A BANK FAILURE

ST. JOHN'S N. F. PASSING THROUGH A PANIC.

Bank that Held Half of the Funds of the Whole Island Goes Under and Hunger Stares the Populace In the Face While Business Is Totally Suspended In Consequence.

ST. JOHN N. F., Dec. 12.—This town is in a panic over the financial situation. Business is paralyzed and nobody here will accept anything but specie. The Union bank stopped temporarily Monday; yesterday it did not open at all. All the gold it had was taken by the savings bank to satisfy depositors, who made a steady run on it. The total specie in the whole colony is not above $400,000. Of this the Union bank had $200,000 and the Commercial $100,000. The remainder is in circulation. Work of every kind has ceased and hundreds of idle men walk the streets. The shutters are up on two of every three stores. There will be no seal fishery next March because the owners of the steamers are bankrupt.

MEACHAMITES LYNCHED.

Three Members of the Notorious Alabama Gang Hanged by a Mob.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 12.—Three of the notorious Meachamite gang in Clarke county have been lynched. The Meachamite gang has for many years run illicit distilleries, made counterfeit money and committed robbery and murder. For a person to give them away meant sure death. In August, 1893, James McCorgnedale, a prominent citizen, was assassinated, and the citizens drove the gang from the county. No less than ten men met their death. A short while ago the Meachamites returned to their old haunts and began to wreak vengence. Murphray Pink, a farmer, was shot down, and made a dying statement charging George Brunsen, Charles Smith and Lee Brown with the shooting. They were arrested and upon their preliminary trial acquitted. After being turned loose other evidence was found and it became known that they were members of the Meachamite gang.

MRS. BOYLE'S WILL MAKES TROUBLE

EXECUTOR KENDALL WRITES AN OPEN LETTER.

He Tells Why the Court Was Called Upon to Construe the Document and Leaves It to the Readers to Decide Whether Undue Influence Was Used or Not.

L. W. Kendall, who is the administrator of the estate of Miss Boyle, the Beloit lady who willed $1,500 to the Baptist church of that city writes an open letter in relation to that case which will be decided by Judge Sale next Tuesday. He says he never claimed that his sister, Mrs. Boyle, did or did not bepueath to the Baptist church $1,500 or any other amount, the face of the will shows that amount $1,500 to the Baptist church of Beloit, but upon examination no such church has been incorporated. Therefore, in order for the church as they are called to be in position to collect or that I might pay the same if they were entitled to it, it became necessary for the church to call on the county court to construe the will, which they have done, and counsel on both sides did present both sides of the case before the court, and a construction of this part of the will is promised on the 18th. Inasmuch as many members of said church have talked as though I was unnecessarily delaying payment and treated me as though I was an open enemy of the church which is not correct, I will give the public the facts as appears in evidence and can be further shown.

The Amount Grew.

"About five weeks before the death of my sister, Mrs. Boyle, though very weak and unable to sit up very long at a time made the great effort, which was accomplished, and rode over to Mr. Knapp's for the purpose of having him draw her will, and as Mr. Knapp stated in court that Mrs. Boyle told him that she wanted to give the Baptist church $500 but for some reason the will was not drawn at that time, but thirteen days before her death Mr. Knapp was sent for by Mrs. Boyle to draw the will as she had grown so weak that it was impossible for her to go to his place for that purpose. It is unnecessary for me to say that between these dates that there was frequent visiting by some very much interested in the church interests, as it is seen that she had become very feeble and at this time the bequest had grown in this short time from $500 to $1,500—how this was done I will leave to the people to judge for themselves.

Refused to Contribute.

"After this will was drawn, which remained in the hands of Deacon Knapp until after her funeral, there was an organ petition presented and she was strongly urged by Rev. Runyan to subscribe additionally to the will $100. In this matter it seems that she declined, and also stood wavering on the matter at other times as the pressure was brought to bear on her by the pastor. In her very feeble condition she finally, a few days before death, mustered strength to write him (the pastor) a few lines, in which Mrs. Boyle fully declined to contribute. This letter was sent to Rev Runyan by Mrs. Purves as Mrs. Boyle wished to be sure to reach him. Runyan replied to it—very much regretting that she had come to that decision, but further stated that he could draw a note which she could sign and that would be all that would be needed at the present.

Said Nothing of a Will.

"After this and about two or three days before her death Mrs. Boyle told me that she was glad to have the matter out of the way as she had decided not to give the $100 asked for. Still she had not told me anything about the will nor did not during her life time. But if I understand Deacon Knapp correctly in court the other day that Mrs. Boyle did tell him in conversation at his house about two weeks before her death that the $500 to be willed for the church and organ expense would be enough for her to give or something to that effect. And still, notwithstanding, all of this refusal, the church, through Rev. Ruyvan, did file a claim in court for this $100. Now all things considered, does it look as though I would acknowledge that I thought Mrs. Boyle in a sound and healthy condition of mind or would give the Baptist church $1500 when only about five weeks before her death she told the maker of the will that she wished to give said church but $500. Now does it look strange that the executor of the estate should ask the church to get a construction of the will before paying over to them $1500."

PATTON IN WINTER QUARTERS.

Poor House Is Always His Place In Cold Weather.

William Patton was sent to the county poor house for five months, he being charged and convicted of being a vagrant. Patton has been an inmate of the county house for many years, he being a man upwards of seventy years. In the summer time he goes out and works, earning enough to pay for his board and summer clothes, but cold weather invariably prompts him to return to the poor house for winter quarters.

GOOD OLD TIMES.

It was a new and up-start town,
From which a river glided down,
And through a town in years more old,
That held and housed, a man, not bold
In taking perquisites and fees;
Took with such modest grace, such ease,
None suspected, for a minute,
Augmentation right there in it,
And he from habit hardly knew
How fast and sure the habit grew.
In fact, he did not stop to think;
That on, ahead, might be a brink:
And yet, a student with degrees,
He should have thought of Damocles,
And should have seen the danger line,
On which the lamps of legend shine.

At length, and on a summer day,
A day of days for making hay,—
A youth whose manhood won renown—
(His shingle in the older town),
Discovered ten 'York shillings" cast,
Into a bill, receipted fast,
And in excess of what the law
Allowed a "high court clerk" to draw.

"Hoop-la"! He sought ate,
Affirmed to fact, and place, and date;
And, out it went—forward command,
"To take, to bring, to hold in hand";
The clerk, "to show if so could he,"
"Why he took in—unlawful fee";
"And if he took, why he should not"
"Restore, three times, the sum he got?"

The court clerk smiled, a forced smile,
As in official tone and style,
Was read to him the same command,
And on him laid official hand.

His breath recovered, he declared
He "must have counsel—go prepared,"
"To law it out, be defended",
"Against the blow, that impended".
"Both from Vermont Vermont, forsooth,"
"So," 'eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.'

Two counsel, his defence to plead,
With one good road-horse for a stead,
Drove briskly to the lower town;
Sheriff and clerk drove slower down.

Six prompt and "practiced" jurors came,
And this the sheriff did proclaim:
"Order and silence let there be;"
"And let there be no levity,'
"That justice, as it may appear,"
"Be done betwixt the parties here!"

The issue joined, plaintiff with tact,
Opened the case, the law, the fact;
And then, with courtly deference,
Offered to put in evidence,
The bill itself; then, there produced;
And, 'gainst objection, introduced.

Defendants' counsel—cast about,
And moved "to strike the paper out;"
"Justice" they urged, would be betrayed,"
"If a defendant could be made,"
"To furnish proof, of any sort,"
"Against himself, in case of tort."
"Sounding in tort!! a case in which
"Starkie, in legal learning rich,"
"Advises all the lesser courts,"
"To carefulness: modern reports."
"Both in detail, and in the main,"
"This high authority sustain";
"And, our own court, we warn you, will,"
"If this-in-ad missi-ble bill,"
"Lead these good gentlemen astray,"
"In their high function here to-day!!"
"Cases like this—sounding in tort"—
"Are thick in courts of last resort!"

Hearing much offensive clatter,
Doubting the defensive matter;
And, questioning, if plaintiff had,
A cause of action good or bad;
The court, perplexed but dignified,
Itself, more than the action, tried;
Gave out its order, loud and large:
"Let the jury retire in charge;
"And bring back in if they agree,"
"Such verdict as there ought to be."

The jury went—all unconcerned.
Defendants left ear itched and burned;
And through the moisture on his face,
Grave apprehension, spread apace:—
Still his department was discreet;
He went not out, to drink to eat,
But in forbearing silence sat,
And looked into his faithful hat.

The jurymen delayed; delayed
To bring the verdict they had made;
Regarding it impolitic
To bring a verdict in too quick.
In their own time, they came back in,
And their in-coming hushed the din.

"Have you agreed?" his honor said:
The foreman rose, and bowed his head;
"We find—court please—first, for ourselves"—
His honor in his pocket delves,
Brings out and pays the statute fees,
And says: "Your further finding, please?"—
"We for the plaintiff find—and fix,"
"His damages, six dollars—six."

Out went the crowd—out, and awaw;
Defendant's counsel, did not stay,—
But let their road horse show his heels,
And raise the pleasant whir of wheels!

But how, or when defendant went,—
Or nursed his wrath, or gave it vent;
Or sought relief in some such "curse"
As popes pronounced, and priests rehearse;
Or in a prayer that rains descend,
And far and wide the stream extend,
And wash the puritanic town,
And all its chronic jurors drown?
Or, whether, braver, he appealed,
Or, better, did his "shekels" yield;

The senior counsel of the town,
To which the river glideth down,
Beheld, and heard, and can relate,
With circumstances, and pith and date,
And more detail and better art,
What is from hearsay in but part
Related here—in simple rhymes
Just for the sake of "good" old times."

Defendant still sojourning here
Lives bravely on from year to year.
With sense of gain but not elate,
He passed from "clerk" to advocate;
And thought, and study keep him meek.
He "reads the gospel" in the Greek.
And moves, and it befits his age,
Up from the scholar to the sage.

His brilliant counsel—both have gone.
Not theirs the gift of will and brawn
That bear the steady going soul
Beyond, or to the common goal.
But we, compeers, who still withstand,
And still have leave to bear a hand
In this great work-day world declare
Unspent respect, for talent rare.
And trust, too much is not assumed
If tenderly we have presumed
To lift a token of regard
For two—from "length of days" debarred.

THIS DAY WAS MADE A MID WEEK SUNDAY

THE CHENEY FORCE HELD MANY MEETINGS.

Three Prayer Meetings and Three Preaching Services Were Scheduled —Rev. Merrill's Last Night's Sermon Was Preached on an Elastic Subject—The Program this evening.

Rev. Merrill, the evangelist, preached what he called "an elastic sermon" last evening. Colonel Bain's lecture made it necessary to change the time and made him begin half an hour before the usual time, and close an hour earlier. Mr. Merrill changed his subject from the one announced, to what he called an elastic subject; one that could be compressed into one word, or lengthened out indefinitely. The subject was, "Come." He took up some of the comes of the bible:

"Come unto me, hear, and your soul shall live."

A little girl left alone, played with the fire, and ignited the house. Then she ran into a closet, fastened the door on the inside, and was too frightened to unfasten it. So people hear the call of God, but draw back into their own hearts and bolt the door, afrait to let God come in and talk to them. But when they admit Him they find He speaks pardon for their sins, just what they need.

"Ho, everyone that thirsteth come ye to the waters."

A regiment of soldiers marching along on a hot day, passed through a muddy-bottomed creek. Each one dipped up a cup full as he passed through. One of them looking at his cup, half full of mud, said:

"Well that's tough looking stuff to drink. I wish I had a cup of water from the old well up on the farm in Vermont, a well that goes right down into the solid rock; a well of pure cold water."

The one who believes God can "with joy draw water out of the wells of salvation" God can satisfy the needs and all the needs of the soul.

Great Privilege Extended.

"Let us therefore come bodly to the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need."

It would be a great privilege to come to a wealthy banker and get all the money you need at any time. It would be a great privilege to be able to come freely to the Queen of England and ask and secure any favor desired. But we are urged to come boldly to the King of Kings and secure just the help we need at all times.

"Come to the marriage."

Give out notice that tomorrow night there will be a wedding in connection with the meeting tomorrow night and the largest church would be packed full. But we are all invited to the marriage feast of the Son of God, the grandest event in all this world's history.

"What right have we to come? 'And the Spirit and the Bride say come, and let him that heareth say come and let him that is athirst come, and whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely.' God himself asks us, urges us, commands us to come. There is nothing outside yourself can keep you from coming. Come, come each one. Come everyone. Come now."

Today is observed as a mid-week Sabbath with three prayer meetings and three preaching services. The subject this morning was "Some of the Merits of the Bible," the point being that when God says "must" he means it. The subject in the afternoon was "Earth-life Completeness in Christ; or What We Can Have Here and Now in Our Christian life."

The subject tonight will be "A Tremendously Personal Question." The Cheney Male Quartet sing from two to five times at every service.

FARMERS INFRINGED A PATENT

Users of the Ohio "Bemis Transplanter" Held to Be Liable.

Rock county tobacco growers will doubtless be interested to know that Judge Siebecker of Madison, has rendered decisions in the three cases of the Fuller & Johnson Manufacturing Company vs. R. B. Acheson, H. Iverson and Thomas Lorimer, and Jacob Wettleson, all farmers who have been using the "New Bemis" tobacco transplanter made by the Stoddart Manufacturing company of Ohio. The decisions were all in favor of Fuller & Johnson. It has been decided by the court that the name "New Bemis" is an infringement of the trade mark belonging to the "Bemis" machine manufactured by the Fuller & Johnson company.

We Were Talking Today,

With our contractors and they say that our house and barn on East Riverview Park will be finished about January 15, 1895.

Our waggonette builders also say the wagonettes will be finished at that date. We have the horses "eating their heads off" and just as soon as house, barn and vehicle are finished you can ride from East Riverview Park direct to the P. O every hour in the day at CAR FARE. No other homesites in this city at less than $600 to $800 equal these East Riverview Park homesites. These you can buy (a few of them) at $400 per lot. If you want to build next year you had better look up this whole deal. It is a corker so to speak.

OPIATE WAS FATAL TO E. H. BENNETT

A WELL KNOWN JANESVILLE MAN IS DEAD.

For Fifty Years He Had Been a Familiar Figure on Janesville Streets and Had Done Much to Advance the Town—His Fortune Estimated from $150,000 to $300,000.

Death from an overdose of morphine, took from Janesville last night a man who had been a prominent figure for half a century in the person of Ensign H. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett was found unconscious in his room at 111 West Milwaukee street yesterday morning, suffering from an over-dose of opiates. He had not been well for some days, yet he was able to be about the streets as usual. He did not rally, but died at 9,30 o'clock.

Mr. Bennett was one of Janesville's pioneer business men and also did much in an early day towards building the city, a number of substantial buildings being erected by him. He was born at Batavia, New York, and first came to Janesville in June, 1844. In September of that year he engaged in general mercantile business, continuing the same until 1850, he then engaged in the dry goods trade exclusively, continuing this until 1854.

Once Ran a Railroad.

In 1852 he was elected president of the Southern Wisconsin Railroad company and had charge of the business of that corporation for two years. Retiring from the confinement of mercantile pursuits about 1885, he engaged in the real estate business, which he continued for many years. He accumulated a large fortune estimated from $150,000 to $300,000. He was never married. One brother, O. K. Bennett of this city, survives.

Mr. Bennett took an active part in an early day, in local matters, and did much for the development of Janesville. He was one of the leaders in organizing the Janesville fire department, and was the first captain of the Sack company, now the Fire Police, and also a charter member of the old Water Witch Water Company No. 2, which he joined in 1854. He never aspired to politicul positions, yet he was a close observer of municipal affairs, and was active in all movements leading to the advancement of the city's resources.

Breakers Ahead!

Prudence, foresight, that might have saved many a good ship that has gone to pieces among the breakers, is a quality "conspicuous by its absence" among many classes of invalids, and among none more notably than persons troubled with inactivity of the kidneys and bladder. When these organs fall off in duty grievious trouble is to be apprehended Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh and stone in the bladder, are among the diseases which a disregard of early symptoms confirm and render fatal. That signally effectual diuretic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will—and let no one so troubled forget this—remedy the symptoms of approaching renal disease and check its further progress. Equally efficacious is the Bitters for constipation, liver complaint, malarial and rheumatic trouble and debility.

Full oft with starch and gloss serene,
The linen collar starts the morn;
Full oft at noontime it is seen
All wilted, wrinkled and forlorn.

That's what you must expect of such a collar; it's the linen of it. The stand-up collars won't stand up, and the turn-down collars will wilt down. The easy, cheap, and pleasant way out of this is to wear "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. These goods are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with "CELLULOID," thus making them strong and durable, and waterproof, not affected by heat or moisture. There are no other waterproof goods made this way, consequently none that can wear so well. When soiled simply wipe them off with a wet cloth. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

CHARLIE IS LOST.

And His Dear Aunt Mopes for the Return of the Wanderer.

Charlie's aunt came into Chicago police headquarters and wanted the department to go out and hunt for Charlie, whose last name is O'Brien. Missing children are reported every hour of the day at headquarters, and they didn't see anything unusual in Charlie's disappearance until the facts came out. They turned Charlie's aunt over to Detective Swan.

The detective, with due regard for the sorrow at the thought of the lost Charlie, prepared to ask a number of questions. Tears almost welled up in his eyes as he pictured the little lost one wandering helplessly about in the streets of a great city.

"What time yesterday did you miss him?" he gently inquired.

"Sure, it wasn't yesterday at all I missed him," said Charlie's aunt.

"How long ago was it?" softly asked the detective.

"Three years ago come last Monday," was the answer.

Mr. Swan fell back in his chair with a dull thud. "Three years, did you say?" and he looked out of the window so he could have a laugh all by himself. "Have you a picture of him?" asked Mr. Swan, and the caller produced a tintype of a clever-looking little chap.

"That was taken some years ago," said Charlie's aunt. "He was six years old then."

"And how old was he when he disappeared?" asked Mr. Swan.

"He was over 17," was the answer.

Mr. Swan gasped again. "And then he's about 21 now," he remarked. "And then he's been missing three years and you don't know where he is and we've got the picture of a boy six years old to find him with. That picture looks about as much like Charlie as I do. The best thing you can do if you want to find Charlie is to advertise."

BY WAY OF DIVERSION.

Hoax—Why do you call that trolley car conductor "Time?" Joax—Because he waits for no man.

Strawber—Did you feel the late financial depression? Singerly—Feel it! Why, for a month, I wasn't able to borrow a shilling!

"If a dog should howl under your window at night, would you regard it as a sign of death?" "Yes, if it was light enough for me to get a good aim at the dog."

Judge—When you broke into the library and stole a lot of books why did you take only the works of classical authors? Thief—Because, your honor, modern books fetch hardly any price in the market!

Mr. Hopperly—What? You only sixteen, Madgie? You look older than that. Madgie—I know it. But I can't tell that I'm twenty-one, can I, when my big sister is sticking at that age and everybody knows we ain't twins.

"There's a man outside who wants to know if the editor is in," said the Hooter's new office boy. "Show him up." "No, sir," was the firm reply. "I'll resign first. He says that's what the editor's been doing, and he's looking for gore."

"How much for my little girl?" "She is free if under four." "But she will occupy a seat all the same." "Makes no difference." "In that case, how much discount will you give me on my ticket if I leave her at home?"

"You've been to Norway?" somebody asked a friend. "What is the Gothenburg system like?" "Oh," said the tourist, "as far as I can remember, it's something in this way: You order whisky as hot water, and they put it down in the bill as sugar."

Painter—Just have a look at my new picture. How do you like it? Friend—Oh, very much. It is splendid, but I fancy the original of the portrait is not quite so red. Painter—The original? Good gracious! what are you talking about? Friend—Why, your uncle, of course. Painter—But that isn't my uncle; it's a sunrise.

"That was a beautiful composition," she said, dreamily. "Y-yes," replied the young man who doesn't know much about music. "It was pretty fine." "I wonder what key it is in." "It's down on the programme as a nocturne, isn't it?" "Yes." "Well, then, I should think it would require a night-key."

A Chicago criminal owes his escape from the penitentiary to the cleverness and devotion of his sister. She managed to administer to him, unknown to the prison officials, a drug which gave him every appearance of a violent attack of inflammatory rheumatism. The woman then went to the judge and by telling him the condition of the prisoner secured a suspension of the sentence.

A vender of patent churns told a Lewiston woman his churn would make two more pounds of butter than her old one. He left the churn and promised to be around in the morning to test it. Before he came she did her churning in her old churn and put the buttermilk in the new one. The agent came and churned and surrendered with the exclamation, "There is no butter in this cream." "I know it," said the lady, "for I've churned it in my churn, but I wanted to see you get that other two pounds." There was no sale.

WHAT ARE THE "BLUES"?

Woman's Color is an Unfailing Thermometer.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

A woman's thermometer is her color. She is red with embarrassment or some deep emotion; she is white with fright; she is supposed to be green with envy; but when she is blue it means that she is sick.

It is not the fault of the woman if she has the blues and that "want-to-be-let-alone" feeling. It is the fault of her condition which makes happiness impossible.

No woman can be happy and lighthearted when painful female complaints crush out her life.

If she is melancholy, excitable, nervous, dizzy, or troubled with sleeplessness or fainting spells, they are symptoms of serious female weakness.

A leaf out of the experience of Mrs. Anna Miller, who lives at Duhring, Pa., shows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure that terrible weakness and bearing-down pain in the abdomen, the dizziness in the head, the feeling of irritability, and loss of appetite.

"I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound," she writes, "for all female complaints. It's my greatest friend."

LEG PULLED APART IN A WAGON WHEEL

TEN YEAR OLD JAMES DIXON PAINFULLY INJURED.

Compound Fractures Inflicted Both Above and Below the Knee and Dr. Palmer Cannot Tell Whether It Can Be Saved or Not—News of the Town.

TEN year old James Dixon had his right leg almost torn from his body by catching it in a revolving wagon wheel last night. "I am trying to save the limb," said Dr. Palmer. "No arteries were cut, but the leg was twisted in such a manner that I cannot yet tell whether or not it will be necessary to amputate it." The boy is a son of Anthony Dixon, who resides three miles south of town. He was in a wagon with his father, and in jumping on the seat while the wagon was moving, his leg fell into the wheel, which twisted the limb clear around, breaking it in two places, and driving the fractured bone through the flesh. Compound fractures were inflicted both above and below the knee.

WATER WORKS SUIT MAY BE SETTLED

PROPOSITION TO BE PRESENTED TO ALDERMEN.

Attorney Jeffris Will Report to a Special Meeting Probably Tomorrow Night—How the Talk of an Investigation by Representatives of Both Sides Came About.

A proposition from the water company to the city will be presented at a special meeting of the common council, probably to-morrow night. While in Madison Attorneys Jeffris and Hyzer talked matters over, and Mr. Hyzer said the water company was willing to suspend all litigation pending an investigation as to the cost of the works. Attorney Jeffris said he was willing to accept any proposition from the water company that would in no wise affect the interests of the city adversely.

Mr. Hyzer proposed to let the litigation stand just as it is until the cost of the works could be investigated by the attorneys for the city and for the company, and said that they might thereby be able to avoid expensive litigation. Attorney Jeffris said he would submit a proposition from them to the council providing that the suspension should not waive any right of the city and should not excuse any worng on the part of the company, such as filing a statement which the city claimed to be false, and providing that in the meantime the company should run the works in accordance with the franchise and should furnish the city with fire protection and providing that all rights of the city should be fully protected. Mr. Hyzer said the company was willing to do these things and it is understood that a proposition to that effect will be submitted to the common council within a few days.

JOINED BY CUPID'S CHAINS

Stafford-Benedict.

Many families will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Benedict, on South Third street tonight to attend the wedding of Miss Nellie Benedict to John Stafford. After the wedding there will be a reception. Mr. and Mrs. Stafford will make their home on the farm of the groom's father.

What Shall the Christmas Gift Be?

If we had a son, which we havn't, we would say to him "stop smoking," (which he probably wouldn't) and buy with the money you would save, a home site on which to build a home or as speculation.

In case he would not listen to the advise we should buy one for him, make him a present of the first payment and the contract and no doubt he would some way keep up the future easy monthly payments (even if the smoking habit had to go) and thus secure the property.

Quite an undertaking and investment to start this, say you? Not so much of one as it might at first blush seem, say we, Just as an encourager for this plan of making Christmas presents, we will sell twenty full sized lots as good lots as there are in the city at ONE HUNDRED AND FIVE DOLLARS each, $5 cash down and one dollar per week for one hundred weeks and then the lot will be paid for in full. No interest, no anything, but exactly $105 for a full size 66 by 132 foot lot and remember there cannot be bought a better lot at any priee.

If the old folks don't avail themselves of this offer you come in boys and girls and let us show you the lots and we are very sure you will buy a lot and make yourself a Christmas present. We never, you never, no one else ever saw such a chance for either old or young people to get a home site. We assure you who may get these 20 lots that the lots adjoining yours shall never be sold at less than $150 to $200 each and we feel confident we shall get $250 each for every lot adjoining these 20 lots that we now offer you at $105 each on easy (one dollar) weekly payments It may seem strange to you that such a bargain is offered, and it is strange, and never again will such a chance to become a land owner occur. These twenty lots are for sale BUT ONE to a person, no man, woman, boy or girl can get but one of these twenty lots, and no lot adjoining either one of these can be bought to-day spot cash at less than $150 up. The deal is simply one of our "rattling" deals, and we shall never repeat the offer after these twenty lots are sold. Hadn't you better come in at once? Yours very truly, just the same as heretofore.

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

MORPHINE KILLED E. H. BENNETT

He Bought Forty One-Eighth Grain Pills Monday Morning.

That Ensign H. Bennett's death resulted from an over dose of morphine administered by himself there is no shadow of doubt. Monday evening he went into a drug store and purchased forty one-eighth grain morphine pills, remarking to the druggist that he was not sleeping very well nights.

"One of these pills is a dose," said the druggist.

"Suppose I take four of them?" asked Mr. Bennett.

"Four will kill a man," replied the druggist.

Not one of the pills have been found in Mr. Bennett's room, which leads to the suspicion that he took the whole lot, or five grains in all.

DURBIN BUTLER IS BACK IN JAIL

The Man Who Escaped Was Caught Last Night at Beloit.

Durbin Butler, one of the jail birds who escaped from the jail wood yard last month, was captured in Beloit last night and is now occupying his old quarters at Sheriff Bear's hotel. Butler was expecting a pardon when he escaped. He was sentenced to imprisment for six months for complicity in the Esther Ferrin debauch. There will now be no chance for pardon, no matter how good his behavior.

Diamonds.

Of all the precious stones in the world, diamonds are the most precious. We have, in our career, come in contact with all sorts of diamonds, and when it comes to this question, we feel safe in assuing you that we can show you one of the handsomest and best selected line of diamonds ever in the state. We don't claimto be experts, that is "diamond experts," but we know a diamond so well that almost every diamond buyer in this part of the country comes to us, tells us to get them a diamond, naming the size, and they will leave to us. The Eldon Comedy Company.

G. Harrison Eldon and Miss LaMarr and company have held the boards at Bain's opera house since Monday evening, and it is but fairness to say that they are the peers of any reportoire company which has ever appeared before a Rochelle public. Every performance thus far this week has been first class, and they deserve crowded houses. There is not a "stick" in the entire company, and their entertainments are strictly free from coarseness or vulgarity. In fact the members of the company are ladies and gentleman, and have made a good impression upon the public by their good deportment on and off the stage. If you want to be nicely entertained, go and see the Eldon's next Monday evening at Myers' Grand.

FORD'S MILL SOLD BY THE SHERIFF

NEW COMPANY BOUGHT THE PROPERTY FOR $5,000.

It Is Composed of L. B. Carle, J. G. Rexford and O. C. Ford Under the Name of the Ford Milling Company—Forclosure Proceedings Resulted In the Transfer this Morning

The Ford flouring mill was sold to the Ford Milling Company this morning on foreclosure proceedings for $5,000.

The new company which now owns the property is composed of L. B. Carle, J. G. Rexford and C. C. Ford.

"Five thousand dollars I am offered for this property," cried Sheriff Bear standing in front of the First National bank at 10 o'clock this morning. The paoperty was the mill at the head of the raceway. He had just concluded the reading of a long advertisement giving a detailed description of the property, it being advertised under foreclosure preceedings the First National bank being the plaintiff.

"Five thousand dollars I am offered for this property by the Ford Milling Company," cried the sheriff. "Do I hear any more?"

"Five thousand dallars, once; five thousand dollars twice; five thousand dollars, three times, do I hear any more? Five thousand dollars, last call and sold to the Ford Milling Company for five thousand dollars."

Our Motto.

Energy, fair treatment, low prices and the best coal and wood that money can buy and prompt delivery of all orders. This will be appreciated by customers and guarantee an increase in business. This has been the cause of our success. Since we opened up, just one year ago this month we have done by our customers in every case as we have agreed as you will see by the following statement there was a balance of $935.72 due by Smith & Gateley to customers for coal paid for and not delivered. As you remember I told them they would get the coal or the money and they have all been paid by us and then we came again with our summer contracts. Every dealer guarantees prices as an inducement to customers to put in coal early and as you all know when coal dropped we notified all our customers there was a balance due them, to make their coal equal $6.50 per ton, and every coal dealer that refuses to do the same, why let the people draw their conclusion. The price of hard coal, all sizes, is $6.50 per ton; No. 2, nut size, $5 25, just as large as one-half the nut coal that is sold here at $6 50; then when you want a snap, buy Vanderpool at $4.50 per ton. Our Pocahontas smokeless $6.50, that pleases the ladies. When you want the best coal or wood for the least money, leave your orders with us, then we spare no expense for the accommodation of our customers. We keep order books with Brownell & Clemons' grocery. C. D. Stevens' drug store and Smith's Pharmacy. They are all authorized to receive money and receipt bills. All orders left with them will be promptly delivered.

Yours truly, JANESVILLE COAL CO.
J. H. Gateley, Manager.

Commendable.

A late member of the United States Mutual Accident Association Bulletin, contains a very fine picture of J. D. King, their Washington agent with the following compliment:

John D. King, the association's general agent for the District of Columbia, is a striking illustration of what energy and ability, when coupled with a long business experience, will do in the accident line.

Mr. King is one of the steady, reliable workers who may be depended on for a good average business every month in the year, and we are exceedingly glad to have this opportunity of publicly congratulating and thanking him for the able and productive work he has done for the institution.

Both Judge Thomas, his superior officer, and Inspector Knipe, who appointed him, should congratulate themselves on their good fortune.

Mr. King was one of the prize winners in a late contest for business. He will be glad to answer any communication from Janesville or Rock county friends. His Washington address is Room 29 and 30 Washington Loan and Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

The company he represents stands at the head of the list of accident companies.

The Unabashed Bridegroom.

Years ago a mushroom oil town called Sawyer City sprang up in a few weeks during the petroleum excitement in the Bradford oil region. One day a bark peeler and his bride from the backwoods were taking a twenty-mile wedding journey on the railroad that traversed that section of the country. They were very happy and caressed each other freely, unmindful of the smiles of their fellow passengers. As the train pulled into Sawyer City and the bridegroom imprinted his one hundred and ninety-ninth kiss upon the fair one's lips, a brakeman opened the car door and shouted: "Sawyer!"

"Don't care ef ye did!" retorted the happy groom.

Then turning triumphantly to his bride, he made it an even two hundred. —Truth.

Old Song Resung.

They used to sing some time ago
A rather plaintive song:
"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."

And wants it all the time."

WINTER FASHIONS.

Velvet Bodices With Glace Silk Skirts—Return of the Circular.

The fashion of wearing a bodice different from the skirt shows no diminution in favor, in spite of its long continuation. The latest thing is to have a glace silk skirt and a velvet corsage. A novel fashion of making the skirt is to have it draped like a bow at the waist in the back. The bodice is often plainly fitted behind, but plaited or gathered in front.

A great deal of rich embroidery is worn this season, either in applique or worked upon the body of the goods itself. Beaded and metallic effects increase its splendor as well as its expense. It would seem that this season will mark the crisis of the period of brilliance and elaboration. A revulsion is bound to take place in due time, of course, and everybody will then dress in black or mode colors on the plea of quiet elegance.

Everything is acceptable for millinery use at present, not only ribbon, flowers and feathers, but passementerie, jewelry, real lace, fur—anything that can be made small enough to go on a hat or bonnet may be employed.

LONG WRAP.

The artificially colored green carnation has a rival—blue chrysanthemum. There are evidently a large enough number of persons of abnormal taste to make the creation of these floral monstrosities worth while; otherwise they would not be so generally seen in flower dealers' windows, but it seems curious that anybody cares to buy them. The next chemical production will probably be an indigo rose.

The cape is the favorite winter wrap. As was prophesied, the old fashioned full length circular has returned, amplified and ornamented, but still the same. No longer confined to evening wear, it is venturing into the light of day and appearing upon the street. A sketch is given of a full length cape of green damasse, lined with wadded bengaline of the same color. It is of ample width and has a wide watteau plait at the back. A pelerine of green velvet falls over the shoulders and is fastened at the throat under an immense draped bow of velvet with long bias points. The bottom of the cape and the edge of the pelerine are trimmed with fur.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

HATS AND BONNETS.

Bright Mauve and Pink the Latest Color Combination—Metallic Effects.

Steel is the correct trimming for hats and bonnets, used either instead of jet or with it, and fur appears to be indispensable as well. An odd ornament just coming into favor consists of wings cut out of astrakhan fur and maintained in shape by means of wire. Lace wings were curious enough, but as compared with those of fur the lace had at least some suggestion of aerial lightness. There are lace stitches not unlike the wings of dragon flies, but the idea of locomotion by flight is ludicrously inconsistent with that of fur clad animals. Some of the newest of the quill and ostrich feathers for hat and bonnet trimmings are propped up with all sorts of irrelevant additions of jet and steel. Occasionally the feathers are embroidered all round with a tracery of steel laid on the edge and are so transformed that the original wearers would never recognize their own plumes.

There are also new bonnets which are masses of bright metallic glinting, a union of steel, gold, silver, with jet.

Astrakhan is the favorite fur for hat trimmings, as sable is for bonnets. Many of the new hats are in long haired silk beaver, and these are, almost without exception, trimmed with black.

Velvet dahlias, double or single, are the newest flowers. They are in all the natural colors and a few others never seen before.

Several of the new hats are in two shades of blue, sapphire or navy, combined with periwinkle or cornflower.

Bright mauve and pink is the latest millinery combination of colors and seems to be a favorite one with Parisian artists.

Some of the prettiest evening bonnets consist of merely a fillet of jet, paste or metal, a skillfully arranged twist of velvet, a little bunch of flowers resting on the hair and some sort of an erect ornament.

The hat shown in the sketch is of black silk beaver. It is trimmed with a cluster of black ostrich plumes, while a torsade of old rose miroir velvet is placed under the bent brim.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

An electric machine has been invented to "unhair" sealskins. The long stiff hairs in the fur have heretofore been removed by hand.
